

Access form to the AGOS music room

The AGOS music rooms, room A110 (for band practice only) and room A101 (for individual music practice) are accessible to all personnel working on the Inria Sophia Antipolis - Méditerranée site. In order to have access, you must fill in the form below and hand it in to one of the music activity managers, along with the music room's good use charter, which you must also sign. Once your request is registered, you will be able to access the music rooms, and their associated responsibilities (see charter).
